1. GENERAL

- 1.1 In terms of paragraph 17 of Schedule 2 to the Income Tax Act, provisional taxpayers are required to make interim payments (called provisional tax) during the course of each year's assessment of their liability for normal tax in respect of the particular year. For this purpose a Return for payment of Provisional Tax (form PAYE 6) must be completed and submitted to the Receiver of Revenue together with such payment.
- 1.2 It will be the taxpayer's task to determine the amounts of provisional tax payable and the table is designed to assist in this respect.
- 1.3 The table shows the approximate tax payable at the rates in force on annual income falling within the various brackets.

2. WHO ARE PROVISIONAL TAXPAYERS?

Persons who are classified as provisional taxpayers are -

- (a) directors of private companies, unless the Minister of Finance otherwise directs;
- (b) other taxpayers, excluding only those whose taxable income is derived -
  - (i) solely from remuneration;
  - (ii) from sources other than remuneration and whose taxable income from such source do not exceed N$5 000 during the period in respect of which provisional tax is payable.
If, during any of the periods in respect of which provisional tax is payable, a provisional taxpayer's taxable income (excluding remuneration) does not amount to N$5 000 from the beginning of the year of assessment to the end of the period in question, the PAYE 6 form for the period must be endorsed to that effect, signed by the taxpayer and returned to the tax office where such person is registered as a taxpayer, i.e.:

Receiver of Revenue, Private Bag 13185, Windhoek;
Receiver of Revenue, Private Bag 5027, Walvis Bay;
Receiver of Revenue, Private Bag 5548, Oshakati;
Receiver of Revenue, Private Bag 2117, Rundu;
Receiver of Revenue, P.O. Box 2127, Otjiwarongo;
Receiver of Revenue, Private Bag 22151, Keetmanshoop

- (c) persons who are notified by the Minister.

3. WHEN PAYMENTS OF PROVISIONAL TAX FALL DUE

- 3.1 Persons whose income are derived wholly or mainly from farming, are required to make only one payment of provisional tax, namely on or before the last day of February of each year.
- 3.2 Other provisional taxpayers must make two payments of provisional tax per year as follows:

FIRST PAYMENT:

Within six months from the commencement of the year of assessment in question (i.e. on or before 31 August) one half of the tax payable in respect of the estimated income for the year.

SECOND PAYMENT:

On or before the last day of the year of assessment (i.e. the last day of February) the whole of the tax payable in respect of the year of assessment in question, less the first payment of provisional tax.

- 3.3 If a provisional taxpayer receives remuneration in addition to trade income, such remuneration must be included in the estimate of taxable income, but the provisional taxpayer will be entitled to reduce the amount of provisional tax payable in respect of the first and second periods with, respectively, the amounts of employees' tax withheld from such remuneration during the first six months and the full year. Employees' tax certificates must NOT be submitted with provisional tax payments.

4. HOW TAXABLE INCOME SHOULD BE ESTIMATED

- 4.1 Every provisional taxpayer must, during each period in respect of which provisional tax is payable, estimate his total income (including remuneration) which will be derived from sources within Namibia for the tax year for which provisional tax is payable.
- 4.2 The Act specifically provides that the estimates of taxable income of provisional taxpayers (other than farmers) for the purpose of the first payment of provisional tax may not be less than 80% of taxable income for the current ta year.
- 4.3 Provisional taxpayers (including farmers) render themselves liable to a penalty if their estimates of taxable income for purposes of the final payment of provisional tax is found to be less than 80% of the taxable income as finally determined for the current year.
- 4.4 NOTE: ALL ESTIMATES MUST BE BASED ON PARTICULARS OF INCOME AND EXPENDITURE OF THE YEAR FOR WHICH THE PAYMENT IS TO BE MADE AND MAY NOT BE BASED ON THE TAXABLE INCOME ASSESSED FOR ANY PREVIOUS YEAR OF ASSESSMENT.
